

Show test results and feedback to students

Explain how it works

The test results and feedback are only available after the test is completed. The instructor can set the time when results are made available to students. The options available for feedback mode(When) include after submission, one time view, on specific date, after due date, after availability and end date and after attempts are graded.

The screenshot shows the clickUP interface for setting test options. The 'When' field is expanded, showing the following options:

- After Submission (selected)
- On Specific date
- After Due Date
- After Availability End Date
- After Attempts are graded

The 'Score' field is set to 'All Answers'.

Below the 'When' field, the 'Test Presentation' section is visible, with 'All at Once' selected.

You can choose to make the results available on a specific date, after due date, after availability end date or after the attempts are graded. Instructor can allow students to take a test after the due date. When you move the mouse over  you will be able to see the explanation of the rule. Click on the down arrow to choose the applicable options.
