

Notification Dashboard

From: <http://help.blackboard.com/instructor/index.htm>

The Notifications Dashboard displays notifications for changes to items. These notifications are displayed in three different modules. The following items can generate different notifications:

- Content item
- Course information
- Assignments
- Tests
- Blog entries
- Surveys
- Journal entries
- Discussion Board posts
- Grade changes
- Early Warning System rules
- Group information
- Announcements

Notifications for these items are categorized in three modules. The following table explains each module and its information.

Modules on the dashboard	What Instructors, Teaching assistance and Graders see?	What students see
Needs attention
Displays all items in a course that requires interaction	Displays assignments, tests, surveys that have been submitted and needs grading or review.	-
Alerts
For ALL COURSES Displays PAST due date & early warning notifications	See users in each course with past due date items and who received generated early warning notifications; Links to email of student; and the early warning rule that was created.	See past due date items (assessments, assignments or surveys) ; Early warning notifications;
What's new

Displays a list of new items in all relevant courses	See new assignment submitted; Test submitted; New discussion postings; New grades posted New content	See new discussion board posts, new grades posted unread blog or journal entries, new content that is available.
To do
Displays the status (past due / due date) of relevant course work & tasks.		Students see any grade items that have listed due dates in two categories, what is past due and what is due in the future. Links to relevant course items are provided.

Be aware that students will have the ability to re-order the modules in the My clickUP area. They will also be able to select what information within each course or organization that they want to appear.